Survey of St. John Valley Potato Houses

MCC- 00187

Introduction: The Survey of Saint John Valley Potato Houses collection is comprised of black and white photographs and manuscript information on potato houses in the Saint John Valley area.

Scope and Content Note: The collection consists of survey reports and accompanying photographs for 100 potato houses in the Saint John Valley area. Each report contains a two-page form containing information such as current owner, address, primary use and architectural and historical data for each of the surveyed potato houses. In addition there are black and white photographs of the exterior of each building. Some surveys also include photographs of interior structures and equipment. The potato houses are located in the towns of Fort Kent, Van Buren, New Canada, Soldier Pond, Sainte Agatha, Saint Francis, Saint John, Frenchville, Grand Isle, Saint David, Wallagrass, Hamlin and Madawaska.

Provenance: This survey was compiled by Don Cyr for the Maine Historic Preservation Commission circa 1996. Copies of the survey and photographs were donated to the Acadian Archives/Archives acadiennes in 2000.

Inventory:

- Folder 1: Survey of St. John Valley Potato Houses 1996, pages 1-102
- Folder 2: Survey of St. John Valley Potato Houses 1996, pages 102-204
- Folder 3: Survey of St. John Valley Potato Houses 1996, 10 pages including: Introduction for the grant; Objectives of the survey; previous survey activity in the St. John Valley; Methodology; results of the survey; potential threats to the surveyed structures; recommendations for further survey activity; bibliography. (This document was added on October 26, 2009, after it was found with other miscellaneous papers)

Order and Arrangement: At the time of their arrival at the Archives, each two-page survey form had the corresponding photos attached with a paper clip. The survey forms were numbered 1-100; photographs were numbered on the back with the corresponding survey form number. In addition, each survey form had a Maine Historic Preservation Commission Inventory number assigned to it which did not necessarily correspond to the numbered order in which the surveys were received.

The photographs were inventoried, numbered individually 1-294, and placed in polypropylene storage pages. The manuscript pages were numbered 1-204 and placed in archival folders. Indexes to the collection were prepared and sorted by survey number, location and owner.

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

SERIES I: Manuscript pages

The manuscript pages in this collection consist of two-page surveys of 100 potato houses in the Saint John Valley area. These forms contain information on the property owner, the location, primary use, architectural data, historical data, and environmental data for each of the 100 potato houses surveyed. The surveyed properties are located in the towns of Fort Kent, Van Buren, New Canada, Soldier Pond, Sainte Agatha, Saint Francis, Saint John, Frenchville, Grand Isle, Saint David, Wallagrass, Hamlin and Madawaska.

SERIES II. Still Images

The black and white photographs in this collection accompany the survey forms described above and include photographs of the exterior of each building, some interior structures and equipment. In a few cases, a 3 x 5 photocopy of a print also accompanies the survey form.
