Biographical information:

Sam Jalbert (1889-1972) was born in Allagash, Maine, on March 10, the son of Joseph and Helen Russell Jalbert. He spent his childhood in the Michaud Farm settlement region. Jalbert became a registered Maine guide in 1905 and worked as a guide and as the owner-operator of the Long Lake Camps on the Allagash riverway. He married Adelia Jandreau and raised a family of eight sons and three daughters. Jalbert died in Fort Kent on May 28, 1972.

Scope and content:

This collection consists of five photographs of Sam Jalbert, taken by his son-in-law, Dean Rhodes. One photograph depicts Jalbert holding his grandson, John Rhodes, taken in circa 1959. Another photograph shows Jalbert playing the harmonica while a child stands in front of him. Both of these photographs were taken at Jalbert's home on the St. John Road. The three remaining photographs show Jalbert playing the harmonica for his grand-daughter, Elizabeth Rhodes. These were taken at Jalbert's sports camp at Long Lake on the Allagash chain of lakes and rivers in July of 1960. All photographs are black and white.
