

Lillie Hebert Gagnon patchwork blanket
MCC-00491

Finding Aid

Prepared by
Anne Chamberland, August 4, 2020
Acadian Archives/Archives acadiennes
University of Maine at Fort Kent
Fort Kent, Maine

Title: Lillie Hebert Gagnon patchwork blanket

Creator/Collector: Lillie Hebert

Collection number: MCC-00491

Shelf list number: AX-491

Dates: 2005

Extent: 1 box (.35 cubic feet)

Provenance: Material was brought in by Rita Pelletier

Language: No language content

Conservation notes: The patchwork blanket is wrapped in tissue paper and was put in an archival box.

Access restrictions: No restrictions on access.

Physical restrictions: None.

Technical restrictions: None.

Copyright: Copyright has not been assigned to the Acadian Archives/Archives acadiennes. All requests for permission to publish or quote from manuscripts must be submitted in writing to the Acadian Archives/Archives acadiennes

Citation: Lillie Hebert Gagnon patchwork blanket, MCC-00491, Acadian Archives/Archives acadiennes, University of Maine at Fort Kent.

Separated materials: Not applicable.

Related materials: Not applicable.

Location of originals: Not applicable.

Location of copies: Not applicable.

Published in: Not applicable.

Historical information: Acadians have long been enthusiastic quilters. The history of quilt making, however, began long before Acadians and other Europeans came to North America. Nations around the world used padded fabrics for clothing, bedding, even armor. The word quilt, of Latin origins, meant “stuffed sack.” While there are countless designs and manifestations of quilts, there are three main types: plain or whole-cloth; appliqué (one piece of material sewn over another, to make a design); and pieced, or patchwork. They can be hand-stitched or produced using a sewing machine. ¹ Acadian format or block format, constructed of either clothing-style or household textile-style cottonades. Traditional Acadian values of self-sufficiency, frugality, cultural conservatism are important cultural artifacts and their quilts document the wide variety of fabrics the weavers created as they cared for their families.

Biographical information: Lillie Hebert Gagnon born on June 8, 1907 at Little Black Lake, the daughter of Ubald Gagnon and Eva Landry. Lillie's pastime was knitting and sewing blankets for family and friends. She was a member of the Ladies of St. Anne, member of the third order of the Secular Franciscans, a R.S.V.P volunteer for more than 15 years. She was married to Ned Gagnon. Lillie passed away on August 6, 2006 at the age of 99.

Scope and content: This collection consists of one patchwork blanket made by Lillie Hebert Gagnon when she was 98 years old. The squares used for the blanket are of different materials and different colors and measure 7 inches by 7 inches. The blanket measures 69 inches by 48.5 inches. It is in very good condition.

Inventory:

Box 1/1: Item 1: One patchwork blanket measuring 69 inches by 48.5 inches made with squares of different materials and colors.

¹ <http://marjoriesimmins.ca/wp-content/uploads/files/Stitch.pdf>